

Exam questions

American Economy

1. The regional economy's subject and study fields
2. Importance of historical genesis and a short introduction to American regions' development
3. Key indicators of American economies
4. An outlook to American economies by international organizations. Key regional differences
5. Economic development in American countries
6. Population: an outlook for America
7. The main patterns of industrial structure of American states
8. General differences between the economies of American region
9. Distribution of natural resources in American countries
10. Natural resources of industrial significance and other mineral deposits in America
11. American land resources and agricultural potential
12. Alternative energy in America
13. Labor force and labor market: American features
14. Employment patterns within American states
15. Structure of labor force in American economies
16. Migration processes and social sphere's challenges in America
17. Industrial structure of the most developed American economies
18. Characteristics of industries of developing countries of America
19. Services sector in America. Agricultural sphere
20. The whole region's transport, tourism and ICT
21. Financial systems of the North and South American countries
22. Banking systems of American states
23. Financial organizations. Insurance sphere in America and budgeting.
24. American stock exchanges and financial markets
25. The goals of regional policy-making in America
26. America: role of the government in economy
27. Stimulating tools of regional development within American countries
28. The most problematic regions of America
29. America's participation in different organizations
30. Key organizations and their role in the American region
31. Significance of economic organizations for North American countries
32. Cooperation between international organizations and South American countries
33. Introduction to foreign economic relations of America region's countries
34. Trade, investment and other types of foreign economic relations of American countries
35. Main partner countries of American region
36. Factors stimulating international economic relations of American countries
37. The mineral resources potential of the USA
38. The US economic development nowadays. Industrial sector
39. Characteristics of the USA social and business environment.
40. International positions of the United States

41. Natural resources potential of Canada
42. Canadian production potential and exports
43. Mexico and Canada's positions in NAFTA-USMCA
44. Mexican economy: distinctive features of development
45. Economic potential of Brazil
46. Characteristic features of the development of Argentina's economy
47. Factors determining the place of Colombia in the American region
48. A brief overview of the economies of Brazil, Argentina and Colombia
49. Mineral resources and industries of Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Venezuela.
50. Agricultural produce within Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Venezuela.
Infrastructure, tourism, social sphere characteristics.
51. Business environment, free economic zones of Chile, Peru, Ecuador,
Venezuela
52. Foreign factor in economies of Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Venezuela
53. The globalization of American economies and its parameters.
54. Globalization in trade, ICT, financial and other spheres in America
55. American countries' globalization patterns
56. Development prospects of American region
57. Azerbaijan-America trade connections
58. Cooperation paths of American countries and Azerbaijan
59. The role of diplomatic missions in establishing collaboration between Azerbaijan and America
60. Prospective spheres of Azerbaijan integration with American countries